State Forestry Queen Day Tour Of Mississippi Tuesday

Mississippi's Queen of the Forest and the five other finalists who won in their respective districts will begin a 5-day tour in Mississippi on Tuesday, June 2.

Queens making the tour will be Miss Vicki Love of Kosciusko, State Queen; Miss Mary Martha Martin, Southwest District Queen; Tylerstown; Miss Beth Beall, West Central District, Lexington; Miss Marge Swann, Northeast District; Blue Springs; Miss Myrna Quarterman, Southeast District, Bay St. Louis; and Miss Jane Pope, Northwest District, Batesville.

Miss Myrna Quarterman, 10, of Bay St. Louis, is the Southeast District "Queen of the Forest". With brown hair and hazel eyes, she is 5 feet, 1 inch and weighs 110. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Quarterman. A junior at Bay High School, her hobbies are swimming and dancing.

Interested firms and individuals from over the State are contributing meals, lodging and other facilities to make the tour possible while arrangements and tour conduct are handled by the Mississippi Forestry Commission.

Charlie Shotts of the Forestry Commission's Information and Education department, who conducted the initial tour of this kind last year, will again handle schedule arrangements.

The tour will actually get underway from Kosciusko where the girls will attend Attala County "Forestry Appreciation Day" on the farm of the State Queen's father Senator John Clark Love. From Kosciusko the touring group will travel to Louisville, Meridian, Laurel, Waynesboro, Pascagoula, Moss Point, Biloxi, Bay St. Louis, Columbia, McComb, Crosby, Natchez, Port Gibson, Vicksburg, and will disperse from Jackson on Wednesday, June 10.

Along the way the girls will be treated to educational tours of wood-using industries and timber stands which go to make up a great percent of the total state economy. There will also be recreational periods during which the young ladies will go boating in the Gulf and the Mississippi River, tour antebellum homes and Windsor Castle at Port Gibson and view the general over-all splendor of various kinds of Mississippi scenery.

MISSISSIPPI RANKS NEAR THE TOP INCOME INCREASE OVER 1958

Mississippi was one of the four states showing the highest jump in per capita income in 1958 over 1957. Topping the list was South Dakota, with an 11.9 per cent increase, followed by Nebraska with a 7.9 per cent climb and then Mississippi and Alaska, both recording a gain of 7.7 per cent this year over last year. Mississippi was also fourth in amount of increase this year over last year in total personal income. In this category, Mississippi jumped an 8.8 per cent.

COTTON USE EXPANDING

A recent report points out that cotton growers and processors can look to the apparel industry as an expanding outlet for their product. Each year for the past decade, when the consumption of apparel has increased, cotton has increased its share of this

SOIL CONSERVATION

Mrs. Patsy Harolson, S. C. S., Hattiesburg, Miss., was a recent visitor to the Hancock County unit office. She came down to assist Mr. Mark Dunn, Conservation Aid, and Hugh Sanford, W. U. C., in setting up, and putting their office files in good order Thursday and Friday of last week.

It is getting time of year that weeds may be taking over your pasture grasses and clovers. If so, the pasture should be mowed, or clipped off, with a mowing machine or pasture clipper. Clipping weeds in a pasture retards weed growth or kills the weed entirely. As a result, grass and clover will grow faster and better. But if you let the weeds go, they will shade the grass and clover, and take up most of the plant food (fertilizer) intended for the pasture.

Livestock in general, like good green pasture grasses and clovers to eat, weed control, along with a sound fertilizer program will produce the better pastures. Have you had your soil tested for lime requirements lately? It may mean money in your pocket to find out if your soil needs lime, especially if you are in the livestock business, whether you are milking cows, raising beef or horses, the kind of animal you have depends on the feed he receives. Consult your local agricultural agency, they can assist in making a sound decision on your pasture needs.

An even more optimistic picture appears when one looks at actual cotton consumption figures. Compared with ten years ago, the apparel industry has increased its cotton by forty-five per cent — from 2,687,000 to 3,913,000 bales. Taking all factors into consideration, economists estimate that the apparel industry will require 7.3 million bales of cotton in 1975 — almost twice as much in 1957.

Mrs. Alvin Bach, a contestant in last year's Mrs. America Contest, displays her freshly-baked prize-winning sweetbread. From 48 states the nation's outstanding homemakers gathered to demonstrate their homemaking skills in this contest. Forty-eight women baked yeast raised sweet breads — and Mrs. Bach won the Yeast Baking Event with her Butterhorn Braid. This year the Mrs. America contest will be held June 11-23 in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, and again finalists from every state will try to demonstrate this traditional skill of a fine cook. And they'll have to go some to beat this:

BUTTERHORN BRAID
1 package of cake yeast, active dry or compressed
5 eggs, lightly beaten
5 cups sifted enriched flour (lukewarm for compressed yeast)

Scald milk. Stir in sugar, butter or margarine and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture and eggs. Add about half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn dough out on a lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and satiny, about 5 minutes. Form into a smooth ball. Place in a greased bowl; grease top of dough. Cover and let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Punch down. Let rest 5 to 10 minutes. Divide dough in half. Divide each half in thirds. Roll each piece with palms of hands into ropes about 1/2-inch thick. Braid three ropes together. Place on greased baking sheet. Let rise in a warm place until doubled in bulk. Bake at 350°F. about 35 minutes. Decorate with *Confectioners' Sugar Icing.

*Confectioners' Sugar Icing: Combine 2 cups confectioners' sugar with 2 tablespoons cream and 1/4 teaspoon lemon extract.

Next time you think of pork, think of the word "thiamine," too.
Thiamine is the B vitamin that is so essential to healthy nerves. Pork is our strongest source of thiamine.
In this age of tension and pressure, millions of folks are looking for remedies for nervous disorders. But where are you going to find a pill with the flavor, aroma, juiciness and appetite satisfaction that you get from a healthy serving of pork chops or pork roast or ham or sausage links?
And one serving of pork provides over two-thirds of the recommended daily allowance of thiamine for an average man.
It would take 16 slices of bread to provide as much thiamine as a pork chop. It would take 16 bowls of cereal to provide as much protein as a pork chop. Or 15 servings of spinach to provide as much iron as a serving of pork liver.

THE UNTOUCHABLES

A dark, vertical, textured strip, possibly a book binding or a piece of fabric, with a lighter, horizontal band across the middle. The texture is grainy and uneven, with some lighter spots and darker areas. The horizontal band is slightly wider and has a more uniform, though still textured, appearance. The overall image is very dark and has a high-contrast, almost abstract quality.
